

In December 2000 , in a lonely village in the north , I heard a cry in the night ...

I jumped out of my bed and I pricked up my ears to check if I wasn't dreaming !!! And I heard the cry again !!! So , I decided to go and see what was happening outside because I was terrified ! First , I got dressed , then I took my pocket lamp . I went downstairs and I got out of the house . I was walking when suddenly I heard somebody who was moaning . I approached and there I could see a man who was drowning ! I had to think very fast to try to save him from drowning ! I had to do something right away ! I decided to use the rope that I had taken with me and I tried to pull this man out of the water ! Five minutes later , I managed to save him : his name was James . I invited him to come to my house so that he could get warmer . It was around a cup of tea that he told me about his adventure .

In fact , he couldn't sleep so he decided to go out for a walk . He was walking quietly on the ice when suddenly he fell into the water . The ice had broken under his feet ! He called for help several times . He was almost dying when I arrived !

He thanked me , went back home and I went back to sleep !
